HE IS A CANDIDATE

Charles H. Godfrey Will Make the Run for the Benton Harbor Postoffice.

HE HAS SOLD HIS BUSINESS

Mr. Godfrey's Claims Upon the Republican Party—Suffered from the Tinplate Tariff.

The first candidate to announce himself squarely as a candidate for the postmastership of Benton Harbor is Charles H. Godfrey, who has authorized THE EVENING NEWS to announce his candidacy.

Yesterday Mr. Godfrey sold the land across the canal where he has been running a cannery factory and a coal and wood yard for several years and after the first of next April he will be out of business. The property was sold to Contractor Crouch of the St. Joseph Valley railroad for $6,000, and possession will be given April 1. The railroad people will probably use the land for their depot. Mr. Godfrey reserves the best of his buildings and the machinery for the cannery factory which will be moved off the property this winter.

This sudden getting out of business caused Mr. Godfrey to decide to become a candidate for the postmastership. His republicanism is unquestioned and from the days of the old whigs his ancestry and family without a break have supported the republican party from Fremont to McKinley.

His fidelity to the principles of the republican party has cost him something, more than perhaps any other man in the city. When the McKinley tinplate tariff passed it raised the price of the tin which Mr. Godfrey used in his factory in a single year $2,000. That same year was one of the unusual crops and when the canned goods were placed on the market they sold at a lower figure than when the tinplate cost less money. Mr. Godfrey lost $2,000 that year by the McKinley law, but he believed in the policy of protection and there was no more ardent advocate of the election of McKinley in this city than he. Tinplate is now cheaper than ever but Mr. Godfrey has never been able to recover from the loss he suffered by the early operation of the McKinley tariff.

Mr. Godfrey has paid out in this city for help as high as $6,000 in a single season and he has furnished a market for a large amount of the produce of the garden and orchard.

Mr. Godfrey is a member of the G. A. R. and has an excellent army record. At the age of 18 he enlisted and marched with Sherman to the sea. He was always on duty, never having laid off a single day during the twenty-one months of his service.

Mr. Godfrey will have an advantage over other competitors for the position in the fact that he is the first candidate to openly announce himself. As postmaster he would be acceptable to the people and would fill acceptably the position.

FREE MAIL DELIVERY.

Why the System Has Not Been Extended in This City.

When the free mail delivery was put in vogue in this city there were some portions of the city which were entirely skipped without apparent reason much to the dissatisfaction of the property owners.

There now is a movement on foot to have at least one more carrier and take in a part of the territory which was left out in the cold. On Colfax avenue, one of the finest streets in the city, do not have the benefits of the system above Britain avenue. The same can be said of Columbus avenue. Another instance of the slight is Baird street where there are more houses than there are on Clay street, the next street north.

The truth of the matter is that the residents of these streets are the very people who are standing in the way of free delivery. The government will not put up mail boxes where there are no street lamps. They will not put up mail boxes where the people do not take pride enough in their street to have sidewalks, and last, but by no means least, they insist that every house should be properly numbered.

If, when the inspector arrives he finds these improvements there will be no trouble in securing the much desired service.

General Manager Denies the Report.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—General manager of the Pullman works denies the report that the company made a general cut of 15 per cent in wages and laid off a number of employees. He says no reduction in wages is contemplated. Since the election they have increased their force 300 men.

Another Present for the Major.

Kalamazoo News: Marshall Frost of Pontiac, who read the Detroit Free Press for many years, became disgruntled with its desuetude of the democratic party and has requested that his unexpired subscription be sent to William McKinley of Canton, O.

A NEW DEPARTMENT.

Kidd, Dater & Co. Now Deal in Baltimore Oysters.

Kidd, Dater & Co. have added a new department to their wholesale grocery house. They have made arrangements to receive shipments of Baltimore oysters fresh from the beds five times a week and propose to supply not only the retail trade of both cities but to out-of-towners.

They placed a new oyster wagon on the streets this morning which is under the management of William Burkam, who has had experience in this line of work in Chicago.

GOING TO THE INSTITUTE.

List of City Teachers Who Go To Niles Tomorrow.

School will close this afternoon until next week. Following is the list of teachers who will take the morning train for Niles tomorrow to attend the institution:

Broadway—Sup. E. A. Wilson, Belle Hunford, Amelia Mack, Sereno B. Clark, L. Lure Moon, Harriet Estlow, Mrs. Emma Cole, M. Fronia Whitehead, Helen G. Southgate.

Central—Erie Dean, Ola Baringer, Olive Barnhart, Seretta Perry, Alice Murray, Fern Temple, Blanche Fulton, Lena Harper, Nellie Daker, Lydia Bailey, Lizzie Peck, Estella Collins, Henry Burrell.

Morton—Lois B. Wilson, Grace McLean, Eleanor Rawlinson, May Woodruff.

Britain—Kate A. Withy, Flora Radcliff, Ora Lewis, L. Matilda Hipp.

A MISTAKE.

Frazell's Band Will Not Charge $2 for Their Ball.

Frazell's military band of 24 pieces has spared neither time, pains or money in their preparations for their grand ball and band concert which will be held in Conkey's hall tomorrow night. They have an entire new set of music which was bought for the occasion and on which they have spent weeks of hard practice. The dance under their auspices will be a novelty for Benton Harboites as the whole program of 20 dances will be played by the full band.

There has been a story in circulation that the price of admission to the dance would be $2. This is a mistake as the tickets are $1 each and at this figure and for such an organization the hall should be crowded.

CAUGHT AN OPOSSUM.

A Fact That May Bar Him Out the Cabinet.

A Berrien Springs Hunter Was In Luck.

BERRIEN SPRINGS, Nov. 19.—While G. L. Parce was out hunting raccoon last night on the Gus Feather place, two miles west of this village, his dog treed an opossum which was an extra large one and a rare specimen.

ROTARY ENGINE PATENT.

Bought By An English Syndicate for $1,600,000.

SLEEPY EYE, Minn., Nov. 19.—A representative of an English syndicate was here and offered Grant Bramble £10,000 more for the patent right of the Bramble rotary engine, patented by him, than was offered by the Allen syndicate. Mr. Bramble had just accepted the offer of £20,000 from the Allen syndicate, and was forced to decline the offer of $50,000 more.

The patent is a most useful one, and the type of engines all over the world will probably sooner or later be modifications of the Bramble engine. The machine is adapted to any kind of work where power of any kind is used, and may be built for a fraction of the money expended on engines.

Yesterday A. G. Phillips, an expert machine man from London, representing an English syndicate, arrived here, and after a thorough examination of Mr. Bramble's patent offered him $50,000 more for the patent right than had yet been offered. He also tendered Mr. Bramble a certified check on the Bank of England for $500,000 as a first payment, agreeing to pay the balance when the transfer of the patent was finally made.

He is a quiet, unassuming man, a splendid telegraph operator, and also a prolific inventor. He owns seventeen patents on different articles, one of which, an electric dynamo, is calculated to make him famous, now that he has money enough to introduce his machine.

An orchestra will furnish music for dancing and in addition a musical and literary entertainment by home talent will be given from the stage. All are invited. Admission tickets with a chance in the drawing of a $20 gold piece, 10 cents each.

P.S.—At the postoffice and fishpond something of interest and value to everyone can be bought or hooked.

Have you got good teeth? Stick them into Bird's fine taffy. Bird always sells the best.

MORE SCHOOL ROOM.

This is a Question That Will Next Trouble the Board of Education.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS ARE FULL.

Whether a New Building or an Addition to the Central is the Question.

All of the rooms in all of the school buildings in this city are filled with scholars and the board of education is sorely puzzled to make room for the new scholars constantly applying for admission. The only place where there is a chance to crowd the scholars a little closer together is in the ungraded room at the central building, and in this room at the present time are many scholars who ought to be in the grades.

At the recent election Benton Harbor cast more votes than ever before and the school reports now show more scholars in attendance at our city schools than at any previous period, both of which is a sign unmistakable that the city has now a larger population than ever before. Another feature of the recent school report is that the scholars are nearly equally divided between the sexes. At the end of the month of October, the number is slightly more now, there was a total enrollment of 1,205, of which there were 634 girls and 631 boys. Were there one and one-half more boys and one and a half less girls the division between girls and boys would be perfectly exact.

Enlarged school room is necessary and the attention of the board of education has been called to the fact by the present pressing necessity. It has been suggested that the janitor's store room in the central building be fitted up for school purposes. This probably will be done to carry the school over the present winter.

Superintendent Wilson says the board is considering building more room. Just where the additional building will be erected is not known. Some favor the erection of a new two-room building on the flats while others favor an addition to the central building. Mr. Wilson expects the city to enjoy an enlarged growth the coming year and more school room is imperative.

CHANGES ARE DEMANDED.

What the Farmers' Club will Ask the Legislature.

LANSING, Nov. 19.—A meeting of the association of farmers' clubs has been called for the early part of December and it is expected that they will petition the legislature to make the following changes in the state laws:

1. That all county officials be paid in full for their respective services by stated salaries fixed by the respective board of supervisors, and that it be made a criminal offense for such officials to receive any fees or other perquisites in addition to their salaries. Also that the fees collected in county offices be readjusted on an equitable basis and that hereafter all such fees be turned into the county treasurer and become a part of the general fund.

2. That no new state institutions be established by the next legislature and that there be a general weeding out of the unprofitable state institutions already in existence and of unbusiness-like methods in management, wherever they exist.

3. That the Michigan prisons should, in the aggregate, be made self-supporting. That provisions be made whereby the estates of the inmates, and those personally responsible for their support, shall contribute either in full or in part, as the circumstances shall warrant, toward the maintenance of the inmates confined in public asylums.

4. That not more than the regular one-sixth mill tax be granted to the university for the coming two years.

5. That no changes be made in the road laws whereby the maintenance of the roads will be made more burdensome than at present.

6. That a more economical and effective system for the collection of taxes upon non-resident landholders be devised.

8. That the tax system be so amended as to secure a more equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation upon both personal property and real estate and upon both corporate and private capital.

MICHIGAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

KALAMAZOO, Nov. 19.—At the meeting of the Michigan Sunday school association Field Secretary H. M. Reynolds reported 4,200 schools in the state and 372,000 pupils. The nominating committee reported as follows: President, Judge J. M. Davis of Kalamazoo, recording secretary, H. J. Burrows; Armada; treasurer, W. C. L. Reid of Jackson; vice presidents, George T. Moody of Detroit, E. L. Wright of Hanebeck, Rev. George B. Kulp of Grand Rapids, Dr. A. Gaylord Slocom of Kalamazoo, and J. H. Grant of Manistee. B. F. Jacobs of Chicago conducted the question box.

The Hon. Marcus A. Hanna is now devoting his time to preparing for the inauguration of Major McKinley. Mr. Hanna is an expert on nominating and electing a president and he will probably make the coming inauguration eclipse anything Washington has ever seen.

PRESIDENT Cleveland is burning the midnight oil in preparing his annual message to congress. Mr. Cleveland does all his writing by hand and his state papers are as much noted for neat penmanship as for the new phrases which they always invent. The president will no doubt bring out some new combination of words to express his utter disgust for the free coinage of silver.

When you come home, find several large cod are kept in one of the tanks of the Amsterdam aquarium, necessarily near the surface, and therefore exposed to a strong light from above. Now, the cod, though not a deep sea fish, is not a surface swimmer and lives at depths where the sunlight must be very much modified by passage through the water. It lives in what to us would be semidarkness. Every one of these cod exposed to the strong light is suffering from an extraordinary hypertrophy of the eye. The whole organ has become overgrown, as in the effort to adjust itself to the use of more light rays it had become over-equipped and thus useless. The cod, in fact, are blind.

The most interesting feature in this change is the extraordinary rapidity with which increased supply of light rays had overdeveloped the organ for its use. It has taken place, not by slow degrees from individual to individual, but in a course of time to be measured by months and in every individual in the tank. If this example is a measure of the rapidity with which such changes take place among fish, the adaptation of those creatures which have migrated from the shallow waters of the deep seas, shown by the total loss or enormous development of their eyes and the growth of illuminating organs to light the abyss, may have been as rapid as it is marvelous.—London Spectator.

Science Has Neglected Eggs.

There is nothing in an egg to prevent freshness being maintained. It is therefore a question of treatment, and the domestic treatment of eggs has not progressed or cheapened in 100 years, and practically poultry keepers are only as far advanced today as in 1788, when the Dutch process of lime pickling was first introduced into England, and those who do not know what has transpired since are no wiser than their forefathers.

There is ample evidence to prove, though the facts are not generally known, that eggs can be delivered fresh from the most distant countries, even at less cost than the present stale ones. This, of course, seems improbable, but at one time it was deemed absolutely impossible that foreign sheep, lambs and beef could compete with meat grown, or that steam could displace labor, or that steel could be cheaper than iron and supersedes iron.

As there is nothing in an egg to prevent freshness being maintained it is therefore a question of scientific treatment, and opposition comes only from those who fear old established interests being extinguished. However, this satisfactory phase of the egg problem seems only that might be advantageously taken up by those interested in developing poultry and eggs as a domestic industry.—London Standard.

The Lively Captain.

"When you come in tonight," said the literary man to his two sprightly children, who were accustomed, when they came in from their evening walk, to walk straight into the library where he was at work and sit down and talk awhile, "I wish you would just say, 'How d'ye do?' and then go out. I have a lot of work to do tonight, and I don't want to be disturbed."

An hour later the literary man heard a latchkey placed carefully in the front door, as though the person placing it there didn't wish to be heard. Then he heard smothered laughter in the hall. It was from the children. They were up to something, sure. A moment later they came marching through the hall, one behind the other, with military step, back toward the library. They turned in, marched like a file of soldiers alongside the library table on the side opposite the literary man, halted, fronted, raised their hands in salute and said in unison:

"How d'ye do?"

Then they faced to the left and marched out again, one behind the other, keeping step as before and keeping as sober as they could, until they came to the parlor. There they exploded.—New York Sun.

Auto With Umbrella.

The doing of ants are among the most interesting things that naturalists find to study. No members of the insect world present more startling suggestions of intelligence and forethought governing their actions. It is not correct, however, to explain the habits and conduct of ants by human analogies. For instance, it was once supposed that the so-called "parasol ants" living in hot, tropical countries, carried little leaves above their heads for the sake of protection from the sun. Later investigations have shown that the ants actually do carry leaves, suspended by the stem which they hold in their jaws, and that columns of them thus furnished with leaves like an army with banners march in regular order, but that the leaves, instead of being intended to shelter the ants from the sunshine, are deposited by them around their nests to form a soil in which grows a kind of fungus that they are fond of. So the parasol ant is not a dandy, but a farmer.—Youth's Companion.

Relics From Costa Rica.

The consulate of Costa Rica in Philadelphia has in its charge a unique collection of Costa Rican archaeological material of great scientific value from Santa Cruz. It is composed of over 3,000 stone objects and of over 400 ceramics, of which 50 per cent is broken. There is also included a number of gold idols, jewels, ornaments and grinding stones. The Costa Rican archeology is the link connecting the ancient specimens formed in the other states of Central America and the discoveries made in South America and presents well defined traces of two distinct civilizations, one descending north by the Pacific coast and the other immigrating from the opposite direction on the Atlantic side, spreading out toward the interior of the central plateau, where it comes in contact with the other. The first is typified by the ancient chorotega.

Indeed, we may say that it is because they are so old that they have been so much worn down. The Alpa themselves are very recent. Our Welsh hills, though comparatively speaking insignificant, are far more ancient. They had been mountains for ages and ages before the materials which now compose the Bigi or the Pilatus were deposited.

Indeed, we may say that it is because they are so old that they have been so much worn down. The Alpa themselves are crumpling and being washed away, and if no fresh elevation takes place the time will come when they will be no loftier than Snowdon or Helvellyn.

They have already undergone enormous denudation, and it has been shown that from the summit of Mont Blane some 10,000 or 12,000 feet of strata has been already removed. Denudation began as soon as the land rose above the sea and the main river valleys were excavated.—Pearson's Weekly.

Two Theories.

Fond Mother (in passenger car, with her children)—It just scared me when I read—Johnny, stop pulling flowers off the lady's bonnet!—when I read in the paper—Richard, you just keep your head in!—the paper the other day that—George, if you put your sticky hands on that lady's dress again, I'll thrash you!—the other day that a woman went crazy—Richard, don't you dare slap that little girl!—when I read that a woman went crazy just from the discomforts of the—Johnny, stop punching that gentleman!—of the journey in a railroad train. I wonder if she had children with her?

Lady (quietly)—Perhaps some other woman had?—New York Weekly.

Good Reason.

You will pardon the question, I know, if you think it obtrusive," said the enterprising newspaper reporter as he talked through the prison bars to the captive train robber, "but why do you gentlemen always go through a train before breakfast?"

"Well, I don't mind telling you," replied the bandit, "seeing that I am likely to be out of the business for a year or two. We do that to get ahead of the dining car pirates."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

An Aged Trick.

Mohio is the name of a tribe of Mohammedans which forms a fourth part of the population of the Malabar coast of south India. They are supposed to be descendants of Moors and Arabians who established themselves on the coast and intermarried with native women. Some years ago there were about 600,000 of them.

"COMRADES."

First Rehearsal of the Comedy Drama Tonight.

Manager Harry L. Beck, of the Amateur Dramatic club has assigned the parts for the bright sparkling comedy "Comrades" which is to be the first production of the club and is to be given Dec. 2 at the Academy of Music. The cast of the players is as follows: May Manning, Miss Edith Wallace; Bessie Bainbridge, Mrs. J. B. Stevens; Nancy, Miss Jessie Pixley; Royal Manning, Fuller McClellan; Marcus Graves, Roy K. Mouton; Simon Stone, Henry C. Mason; Matt Winsor, Harry L. Beck.

The first rehearsal will be held tonight at the Academy of Music at 7 o'clock sharp.

MAKING A RECORD.

Prosecutor Hamilton. Forcibly Demonstrating His Ability.

Prosecutor Hamilton is demonstrating his efficiency to a marked degree at the present term of the circuit court. He has not lost a case for the people since the trial of criminal causes began, and upwards of a half dozen cases have been disposed of by the jury since the October term opened, while numerous pleas of guilty have been entered by respondents in various cases.

This goes to show that the prosecuting attorney makes a thorough investigation of the evidence before causing an arrest, a method that saves the county a vast sum of money annually. When he appears in court as prosecutor of a criminal case he invariably has witnesses to confirm the allegations made in the information and conviction is sure to follow.

AN ELECTION BET.

It is Paid With Interest By Thomas Shear.

Thomas Shear bet that Bryan would be elected and his friend John Walker, bet that McKinley would be elected. The bet was a banquet. Mr. Shear paid the bet up in royal style and banquetted Mr. Walker and his friends last night. A rich repast was served to the silverites present but the gold bugs were given a delicious outlay of sour milk, pickled herring and potatoes. That is the way the bet was paid.

After the feast there was some vocal and instrumental music after which the guests played a progressive pedro until late hour. All present highly enjoyed the pleasant evening.

EVENING WITH THE POETS,
Was Pleasantly Spent at the Methodist Church.

An evening with the poets Carlton and Riley was enjoyed last evening at the Methodist church by a good audience. The entertainment was arranged by the Epworth league. The following fine program was given:

Mixed quartette, Miss Dobberthien, Mrs. Townsend, Messrs. Rimes and Ferguson; Life of the poets, Miss Wheeler; recitation, Inez Clark; duet, Mrs. Reynold and Miss Williams; reading, Miss Alley; solo, Mr. Kelly; reading, Miss White; ladies' trio, Misses Dunbar, Mathews and Arndt; recitation, Genevieve White; duet, Florence Brown and Orson Combs, spoken round; solo, W. B. Church; reading, Miss Merrill; quartette, Miss Dobberthien, Mrs. Townsend, Messrs. Rimes and Ferguson.

LADIES' DAY.

A Very Pleasant Event at the Commercial Club.

The Commercial club rooms were well filled last night with ladies who responded to invitations sent out to be present with their friends, to enjoy a program gotten up for their entertainment.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the inspiring strains of Green's matchless orchestra brought the occupants of the different rooms to the reading room where the following program was given: Green's orchestra; recitation, Jessie Stone; orchestra; quartette, Congregational choir; selection from Bell's Cornville; selection from Pinhook, Burns-To a house, L. C. Fife; vocal solo, Miss Cora D. King.

W. F. Sesser was master of ceremonies and filled the position to perfection. After the program cards, billiards and various other games were indulged in.

GLOWING TRIBUTE.

It is Paid Remonstrance by a New York Paper.

The New York Commercial Advertiser has the following to say of Remenyi who will appear at the Academy of Music Thanksgiving eve, November 25:

"The reception which was accorded to Remenyi on his appearance was an ovation which swelled into a tremendous wave of enthusiasm after his spirited rendering of the three movements of the Godard concerto. So insistent was the applause that he was compelled to repeat the canzonetta movement, give two more encores after that and then come out and bow his acknowledgements half dozen times before the audience could be satisfied.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Following the Northrup case in the circuit court yesterday afternoon came the case of the people against Michael Lingle, the respondent being accused with the larceny of two sacks of flour from the store operated by Parish & Sons at Baroda. He is represented by Lawyer James O'Hara. The following jury was impaneled: George Lake, Joseph Spencer, A. S. Miller, George F. Jasper, Theodore Morlock, W. F. Kimball, Marion L. Wire, J. W. Horaine, Dexter McClure, Warren Krothe, Joseph Lipp and W. S. Dunbar.

This goes to show that the prosecuting attorney makes a thorough investigation of the evidence before causing an arrest, a method that saves the county a vast sum of money annually. When he appears in court as prosecutor of a criminal case he invariably has witnesses to confirm the allegations made in the information and conviction is sure to follow.

AN OLD SUIT.

PONTIAC, Nov. 19.—Judge Smith yesterday handed down a decision granting J. Ten Eyck a judgment prior to the first mortgage against the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern railway, for $30,000 for legal services rendered preceding and during the construction of the road. The suit has been in the courts since 1888. The first judgment was for $10,000.

Only Six Hunters Killed.

HORCONUS, Nov. 19.—In the 18 days since the open season began, only six deer-hunters have been fatally shot in the upper peninsula, though the crop of minor accidents is up to the average. Six days remain of the hunting season, and fatalities are certain to occur. The hunting, so far as deer are concerned, is unusually good.

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

BATTLE CREEK, Nov. 19.—Mrs. E. L. Wood, a milliner, is the heroine of the town just as present. About 1 o'clock she was awakened by someone walking in the hallway. The kitchen door was open and the gas lighted. Mrs. Wood was soon confronted by a real live burglar. She didn't scream, nor was she frightened, but gave the burglar a good, hard shove out of the room. He came back at her and pinned her against the wall. For 15 minutes they struggled. Very soon it was the burglar who wanted to get away, but he did not succeed till Mrs. Wood's son had been awakened. The police gave chase, catching the burglar in a lumber yard.

BRECK'S GENIUS.

Began On Nothing but Left $75—
$000 Debt.

PAW PAW, Nov. 19.—The commissioners' claim allowed against the George E. Brock estate amount to almost $75,000. Beginning business nothing, he managed to die 12 years afterward, owing $75,000, with practically nothing left with which to pay.

Wants a Divorce.

Clara Haskel, of Watervliet, yesterday filed a bill in the circuit court commencing divorce proceedings against her husband, Bert G. Haskel, whom she charges with non support.

Nineteenth Century Club.

The Nineteenth century club will meet in special session Friday afternoon, November 20, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Belle C. Smith. A full attendance is desired.

Marriage Licenses.

John Warsoo, 21, Royalton; Minnie Kesterke, 21, Lincoln; Albert Bodtker, 24, Oronoko; Bertie Knuth, 19, Royalton; Carl Gustav Muller, 44, Chicago; Annie Nowlen Kueland, 22, Benton Harbor.

Probate Court.

Estate of John Morrison, deceased, petition filed by John Morrison, one of the heirs of said estate, for the appointment of three commissioners to partition the real estate of said deceased among the heirs to said estate. Hearing December 14 at 10 a.m.

Promised to be present.

W. F. Sesser was master of ceremonies and filled the position to perfection. After the program cards, billiards and various other games were indulged in.

Promised to be present.

BANDY AND MARRIED LIFE.

Why Some Husbands Don't Supply Their Wives With Confectionery.

"Oh, how perfectly lovely!" said the girl in the pink dress. "I do so desire on candy."

"Especially chocolate nougat," declared the young woman in white. "It is just too sweet for anything."

"Where did you get them? Was it Charley or Bob?"

"It was Charley," replied the girl with the box in her hand. "He always has the nicest candy."

"But you like Bob best?"

"Agnes, dear, you are entirely too inquisitive."

"You mustn't get married if you like
candy."

"What has that to do with it?"

"Didn't you ever hear that the men who buy candy before you get married never buy you any after they are married?"

"Is that so?"

"That's what the papers say."

"Pooh! I don't believe a word of it!
But, then, that's just like some of the horrid men. I know one who won't do it."

"Oh, I say, girls. What luck! Here comes Maud. We'll ask her about it."

"You'd never dare."

Maud drew near, and all the girls
giggled merrily.

"Oh, Maud, you're married, aren't you?"

"Why, what a silly question! Were not you one of the bridesmaids?"

"Oh, yes, we all saw her, and she looked just perfectly killing."

"Well, I wanted to ask you a question."

"Certainly, dear. What is it?"

"Well, does Dick buy you any candy now that you are married? You know he used to buy you lots of it—whole candy stores full—before."

"No, he doesn't."

"What did I tell you?" exclaimed
the girl in pink. "It is just what I said."

"Well, maybe they are not all like Dick."

"What do you mean?" exclaimed
Maud. "I never did see such a girl.
Why didn't you let me finish saying what I wanted to say? I was going to say something and you broke right in."

"I was going to say that he doesn't buy any candy because I don't want him to.
What's his is mine, and I just take his money and buy it whenever I want it.
It is a much better arrangement, for I buy the kind I like and he seldom did."

—Chicago Times-Herald.

GETTING PATENTS.

The Discoverers Are Not Usually the Ones
to Keep the Reward.

If you look back on the history of human progress, you will find that none of the great epochs making inventions have been patented. The man who lit the first fire—whether Prometheus or the party from whom he stole the idea did not get a patent for it. Neither did the man who made the first wheel, in every sense, one of the most revolutionary inventions in the history of man. The same thing may be said of the invention of soap, candles, gun powder, umbrellas and the marinier's compass, or, to come down to our own day, of the steam engine and the electric telegraph.

Patents are mostly concerned with small mechanical details and improvements—it may be in the application of steam and electricity—and by means of these patents enormous profits have been secured to second rate inventors, but the great ideas and discoveries which underlie these details have been given to the world gratis.

There is a general notion that if you do not protect inventions by means of patents inventors would cease to invent and material progress would come to a standstill. But history does not bear this out in the least. Men with great mechanical gifts do not exercise them solely with a view to commercial profit any more than astronomers search the heavens for new worlds with an eye to registering patents and floating companies on the results of their discoveries.—London Truth.

The financial question sinks into insignificance by the side of the post-office question in many localities.

The Chicago Times-Herald most truthfully remarks: "Many a man who thinks himself a cabinet-size statesman is really only a tiny politician."

WHAT is pronounced to be gold quartz of great value has been discovered at Cairo, Ill. The people of that part of Egypt are naturally excited.

Miss Frances E. Willard has been re-elected president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, a position as high as woman can attain in this country.

The Hon. William J. Bryan suggests that the silver clubs organizing for the campaign of 1900 should not call themselves Bryan clubs but silver clubs. This probably is an inducement thrown out for the return of Tom Watson.

The Hon. Marcus A. Hanna is now devoting his time to preparing for the inauguration of Major McKinley. Mr. Hanna is an expert on nominating and electing a president and he will probably make the coming inauguration eclipse anything Washington has ever seen.

PRESIDENT Cleveland is burning the midnight oil in preparing his annual message to congress. Mr. Cleveland does all his writing by hand and his state papers are as much noted for neat penmanship as for the new phrases which they always invent. The president will no doubt bring out some new combination of words to express his utter disgust for the free coinage of silver.

When God Became Blind.

Several large cod are kept in one of the tanks of the Amsterdam aquarium, necessarily near the surface, and therefore exposed to a strong light from above. Now, the cod, though not a deep sea fish, is not a surface swimmer and lives at depths where the sunlight must be very much modified by passage through the water. It lives in what to us would be semidarkness. Every one of these cod exposed to the strong light is suffering from an extraordinary hypertrophy of the eye. The whole organ has become overgrown, as if in the effort to adjust itself to the use of more light rays it had become overequipped and then useless. The cod, in fact, are blind.

The most interesting feature in this change is the extraordinary rapidity with which increased supply of light rays has overdeveloped the organ for its use. It has taken place, not by slow degrees from individual to individual, but in a course of time to be measured in months and in every individual in the tank. If this example is a measure of the rapidity with which such changes take place among fish, the adaptation of those creatures which have migrated from the shallow waters of the deep seas, shown by the total loss or enormous development of their eyes and the growth of illuminating organs to light the abyss, may have been as rapid as it is marvelous.—London Spectator.

Science Has Neglected Eggs.

There is nothing in an egg to prevent freshness being maintained. It is therefore a question of treatment, and the domestic treatment of eggs has not progressed or cheapened in 100 years, and practically poultry keepers are only as far advanced today as in 1788, when the Dutch process of lime pickling was first introduced into England, and these who do not know what has transpired since are no wiser than their forefathers. There is ample evidence to prove, though the facts are not generally known, that eggs can be delivered fresh from the most distant countries, even at less cost than the present stale ones. This, of course, seems improbable, but at one time it was deemed absolutely impossible that foreign sheep, lambs and beef could compete with home grown, or that steam could displace labor, or that steel could be produced at a cheaper rate than iron and superseded iron.

As there is nothing in an egg to prevent freshness being maintained, it is therefore a question of scientific treatment, and opposition comes only from those who fear old established interests being extinguished. However, this is the infatuated phase of the egg problem seems one that might be advantageously taken up by those interested in developing poultry and eggs as a domestic industry.—London Standard.

Relies From Costa Rica.

The consulate of Costa Rica in Philadelphia has in its charge a unique collection of Costa Rican archaeological material of great scientific value from Santa Cruz. It is composed of over 8,000 stone objects and of over 400 specimens, of which 60 per cent is broken. There is also included a number of gold idols, jewels, ornaments and grinding stones. The Costa Rican archaeology is the link connecting the ancient specimens found in the other states of Central America and the discoveries made in South America and presents well defined traces of two distinct civilizations, one descending north by the Pacific coast and the other immigrating from the opposite direction on the Atlantic side, spreading out toward the interior of the central plateau, where it comes in contact with the other. The first is typified by the ancient chorotega.

Quiet Amusement in Philadelphia. The Alps Will Be Washed Away. The Alps, from a geological point of view, are very recent. Our Welsh hills, though comparatively speaking insignificant, are far more ancient. They had been mountains for ages and ages before the materials which now compose the Rigi or the Pilatus were deposited.

Indeed, we may say that it is because they are so old that they have been so much worn down. The Alps themselves are crumpling and being washed away, and if no fresh elevation takes place the time will come when they will be no loftier than Snowdon or Holywell.

They have already undergone enormous denudation, and it has been shown that from the summit of Mont Blanc some 10,000 or 12,000 feet of strata has been already removed. Denudation begins as soon as the land rises above the sea and the main river valleys were excavated.—Pearson's Weekly.

Two Theories.

Fond Mother (in passenger car, with her children)—It just scared me when I read—Johnny, stop pulling flowers off the lady's bonnet!—when I read in the paper—Richard, you just keep your head in—the paper the other day that George, if you put your sticky hands on that lady's dress again, I'll thrash you—the other day that a woman went crazy—Kitchard, don't you dare slap that little girl!—when I read that a woman went crazy just from the discomforts of the—Johnny, stop pushing that gentleman!—of the journey in a railroad train. I wonder if she had children with her?

Lady (quietly)—Perhaps some other woman had?—Now York Weekly.

Good Reason.

"You will pardon the question, I know, if you think it obtrusive," said the enterprising newspaper reporter as he talked through the prison bars to the captive train robber, "but why do you gentlemen always go through a train before breakfast?"

"Well, I don't mind telling you," replied the bandit, "seeing that I am likely to be out of the business for a year or two. We do that to get ahead of the dining car pirates."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

An Aged Trick.

The schoolmaster gave a wild howl and fell with a bang from his wheel. "What is it?" cried his favorite pupil, as she circled around him.

"It's a trick," moaned the master.

"In your tire?"

"No, in my saddle."—Indianapolis Journal.

Mopoli is the name of a tribe of Mohammedans which forms a fourth part of the population of the Malabar coast of south India. They are supposed to be descendants of Moors and Arabians who established themselves on the coast and intermarried with native women. Some years ago there were about 600,000 of them.

Danger in the Sponge.

Professor Lang of Vienna declared that sponges, owing to the impossibility of destroying germs in them, have long since been banished from the surgeon's table and should also be excluded from the bathroom and washstand.—Medical Record.

Not Conceited.

She—All men are conceited.

He—Not all. I see a man every day who is not conceited.

The Lively Children.

"When you come in tonight," said a literary man to his two sprightly boys, who were accustomed, when they came in from their evening walk, to walk straight into the library where he was at work and sit down and talk awhile. "I wish you would just say, 'How d'ye do?' and then go out. I have a lot of work to do tonight, and I don't want to be disturbed."

An hour later the literary man heard a latchkey placed carefully in the front door, as though the person placing it there didn't wish to be heard. Then he heard smothered laughter in the hall. It was from the children. They were up to something, sure. A moment later they came marching through the hall, one behind the other, with military step, back toward the library. They turned in, marched like a file of soldiers alongside the library table on the side opposite the literary man, halted, fronted, raised their hands in salute and said in unison:

"How d'ye do?"

Then they faced to the left and marched out again, one behind the other, keeping step as before and keeping as sober as they could, until they came to the parlor. There they exploded.—New York Sun.

Ante With Umbrella.

The doings of ants are among the most interesting things that naturalists find to study. No members of the insect world present more startling suggestions of intelligence and forethought governing their actions. It is not correct, however, to explain the habits and conduct of ants by human analogies. For instance, it was once supposed that the so-called "parasite ants," living in hot, tropical countries carried little leaves above their heads for the sake of protection from the sun. Later investigation has shown that the ants actually do carry leaves, suspended by the stem which they hold in their jaws, and that columns of them thus furnished with leaves like an army with banners march in regular order, but that the leaves, instead of being intended to shelter the ants from the sunshine, are deposited by them around their nests to form a soil in which grows a kind of fungus that they feed on. So the parasite ant is not a dandy, but a farmer.—Youth's Companion.

Frozen Mutton.

The reason why Argentine mutton generally is of inferior prize to that of New Zealand has a threefold explanation. In the first place, New Zealand possesses today a mutton producing breed superior to that grown in the Plate. In the second, the New Zealander feeds his stock during the winter time with extra forage, while in the Argentine, the sheep are allowed to graze upon the same bare pastures during the dead season. The result of this is that the New Zealander produces an even, well grown carcass, while there isn't home from the Plate one upon which a hasty covering of fat has been put during the spring months of the year. The difference between the two carcasses will readily be noted by any one who pays a visit to the cattle market. Thirdly, the freezer in New Zealand freezes the mutton on account of the breeder, and in the Argentine the freezer buys from the breeder. The disadvantage of the latter system, so long as the breeder has no knowledge of the requirements of the market, is apparent. The New Zealand breeder selects his wethers with care, rejecting any which will give an inferior weight or which is insufficiently fatened for the butcher. He rounds them in small droves to the freezing establishments and takes every care that they arrive in perfect order. The

"COMRADES."

First Rehearsal of the Comedy Drama Tonight.

Manager Harry L. Beck, of the Amateur Dramatic club has assigned the parts for the bright sparkling comedy "Comrades" which is to be the first production of the club and is to be given Dec. 2 at the Academy of Music. The cast of the players is as follows: May Manning, Mrs. Edith Wallace; Bessie Bainbridge, Mrs. J. B. Stevens; Nancy, Miss Jessie Pixley; Royal Manning, Fuller McMillan; Marcus Graves, Roy K. Monson; Simon Stone, Harry C. Mason; Matt Winsor, Harry L. Beck.

The first rehearsal will be held tonight at the Academy of Music at 7 o'clock sharp.

MAKING A RECORD.

Prosecutor Hamilton Forcibly Demonstrating His Ability.

Prosecutor Hamilton is demonstrating his efficiency to a marked degree at the present term of the circuit court. He has not lost a case for the people since the trial of criminal causes began, and upwards of a half dozen cases have been disposed of by the jury since the October term opened, while numerous pleas of guilty have been entered by respondents in various cases.

This goes to show that the prosecuting attorney makes a thorough investigation of the evidence before causing an arrest, a method that saves the entity a vast sum of money annually. When he appears in court as prosecutor of a criminal case he invariably has witnesses to confirm the allegations made in the information and conviction is sure to follow.

AN ELECTION BET.

It is Paid With Interest By Thomas Shear.

Thomas Shear bet that Bryan would be elected and his friend John Walker, bet that McKinley would be elected. The bet was a banquet. Mr. Shear paid the bill up in royal style and banquetted Mr. Walker and his friends last night. A rich repast was served to the silverites present but the gold bugs were given a delicious outlay of sour milk, pickled herring and potatoes. That is the way the bet was paid.

After the feast there was some vocal and instrumental music after which the guests played a progressive polo until a late hour. All present highly enjoyed the pleasant occasion.

EVENING WITH THE POETS.

Was Pleasantly Spent at the Methodist Church.

An evening with the poets Carlton and Riley was enjoyed last evening at the Methodist church by a good audience. The entertainment was arranged by the Epworth League. The following fine program was given:

Mixed quartette, Miss Dohberthien, Mrs. Townsend, Messrs. Rimes and Ferguson; Lute of the poets, Miss Wheeler; recitation, Ida Clark; duet, Mrs. Reynold and Miss Williams; reading, Miss Alley; solo, Mr. Kelly; reading, Miss White; ladies' trio, Misses Dunbar, Matthews and Arnold; recitation, Genevieve White; duet, Florence Brown and Orson Combs; spoken round; solo, W. B. Church; reading, Miss Merrill; quartette, Miss Dohberthien, Mrs. Townsend, Messrs. Rimes and Ferguson.

LADIES' DAY.

A Very Pleasant Event at the Commercial Club.

The Commercial club rooms were well filled last night with ladies who responded to invitations sent out to be present with their friends, to enjoy a program gotten up for their entertainment.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the inspiring strains of Green's matchless orchestra brought the occupants of the different rooms to the reading room where the following program was given: Green's orchestra; recitation, Jessie Stone; orchestra; quartette, Congregational choir; selection from Bells of Cornville, selection from Pinocchio, Burns'—To a Louse, L. C. Fife; vocal solo, Miss Cora D. King.

W. F. Sesser was master of ceremonies and filled the position to perfection. After the program cards, billiards and various other games were indulged in.

GLOWING TRIBUTE.

It is Paid Remonstrance by a New York Paper.

The New York Commercial Advertiser has the following to say of Remenyi who will appear at the Academy of Music Thanksgiving eve, November 25:

"The reception which was accorded to Remenyi on his appearance was an ovation which swelled into a tremendous wave of enthusiasm after his spirited rendering of the three movements of the Godard concerto. So insistent was the applause that he was compelled to repeat the canzonetta movement, give two more encores after that and then come out and bow his acknowledgements half dozen times before the audience could be satisfied.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Following the Northrup case in the circuit court yesterday afternoon came the case of the people against Michael Linglie, the respondent being accused with the larceny of two sacks of flour from the store operated by Parish & Sons at Baroda. He has not lost a case for the people since the trial of criminal causes began, and upwards of a half dozen cases have been disposed of by the jury since the October term opened, while numerous pleas of guilty have been entered by respondents in various cases.

This goes to show that the prosecuting attorney makes a thorough investigation of the evidence before causing an arrest, a method that saves the entity a vast sum of money annually. When he appears in court as prosecutor of a criminal case he invariably has witnesses to confirm the allegations made in the information and conviction is sure to follow.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury sworn in the criminal proceedings against Albert D. Northrup, accused of taking indecent liberties with May Troyer, 11 years old, living with her parents at Benton Harbor, filed out of the court room. They consumed scarcely 30 minutes in deliberation, bringing in a verdict of guilty. Northrup entered into recognition in the sum of $500, with Charles A. Stone as surety, to appear this afternoon at 1:30 for sentence. The verdict was no surprise to those who heard the testimony.

From Yesterday's Journal.

Little 11-year-old May Troyer, of Benton Harbor, with an intellect as keen as an adult, was placed in the witness box in the circuit court this afternoon to tell the story of an alleged assault upon her by Albert D. Northrup, a middle-aged married man, whose home is a few steps from the Troyer home.

The jury is composed as follows; Augustus Willard, Herman Severt, John J. Kibbe, Fred Knauf, Arvine S. Miller, Fred Gano, Fred Durm, William D. Lybrook, Charles Anderson, Abiel C. Copland, Charles Beilteal and Herman Bentler.

The jury sitting on the case of John Murphy, accused of larceny, brought in a verdict of guilty.

BRECK'S GENIUS.

Began On Nothing but Left $75,-
000 Debt.

PAW PAW, Nov. 19.—The commissioners' claim allowed against the George E. Breck estate amount to almost $75,000. Beginning business on nothing, he managed to die 12 years afterward, owing $75,000, with practically nothing left with which to pay.

Wants a Divorce.

Chum Haskell, of Waterleit, yesterday filed a bill in the circuit court commanding divorce proceedings against her husband, Bert G. Haskell, whom she charges with non support.

CALIFORNIA

If you are going there by all means inquire about the Burlington Route Personally Conducted Excursions to San Francisco and Los Angeles, which leave Chicago every Wednesday with a Pullman Palace Tourist Car through to destination. The Route is via Denver, the Denver & Rio Grande Ry. and Salt Lake City. The cars are fitted with carpets, upholstered seats, mattresses, pillows, blankets, bed linens, bath curtains, toilet rooms, heat and light, and, in fact, all the conveniences of a standard Pullman Palace car; they lack only some of the expensive finish of the Pullman run on the limited express trains, while the cost per berth is only about one-tenth (1/10) of the price.

One week from today is Thanksgiving.
The Discovers Are Not Usually the Ones
to Reap the Reward.

J. J. MILLER, the meat man, advertises the fattest Thanksgiving turkeys today.

WHEAT was stronger yesterday and so on the Chicago board of trade for 78 cents.

The expenses of Charles R. Sligh, silver candidate for governor, was just $1,034.75.

Hirsch Bros. are making a specialty of turkeys for Thanksgiving. See ad.

The cold wave is slightly in evidence today. A remarkable change has occurred since yesterday.

GEORGE D. ALGER has placed a large clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, the use of which he furnishes the association free.

CONTRACTOR PRATT has the foundations for the new house and barn across the Paw Paw well out of the way of cold weather.

ATTEND the grand ball to be given by Frazell's hand tomorrow night. Any lover of good music will be well repaid by hearing the band concert.

UNIVERSALIST choral rehearsal this evening at 8 o'clock prompt, members please take notice. The choral service will be given Sunday evening, November 29.

BILLS were sown knee-deep over the city today asking the question, "Why Don't You Take the Palladium?"
Bless your life, it was before supposed that everybody took the paper.

A CANVASSER for the Chicago Chronicle, who was working Benton Harbor this week, had hard luck every time he struck a silver democrat. The wound has not entirely healed over yet.

THE BERRIEN SPRINGS ERA thus gets under cover: "Roman L. Jarvis threatens to go into the newspaper business and this makes editors who were 'ugin' him squirm. The era has always been his staunch friend."

HENRY R. OCHSE, C. J. PECK's artist, is doing some fine lettering at the new
Y. M. C. A. rooms. From the hall where people enter the association department may be seen the doors leading to all the rooms and the signs on every door makes the visitor feel at once at home without asking any questions.

NILES STAR: The Indians who received their pay at Dowagiac were tempted with all kinds of propositions and their money went freely. Robes went at enormous prices; many purchased from a fellow who was out and about for that special purpose with a horse and buggy. Plenty of "con" people are on the scene and Indian money is what they are after.

NILES has a bulldog which doesn't mind being run over by a train of cars.
The Sun says: "The Big Four passenger train going north this morning passed completely over a Hale, white bulldog, just south of the Broadway bridge. The dog laid on the track for a few minutes and then limped away, having miraculously escaped uninjured with the exception of a few scratches."

A DAD typographical error occurred in the columns of the good-natured Palladium last night. That paper remarked in its loving way that "THE NEWS" under its present management was a curse to Benton Harbor." It intended to say that "THE NEWS" was a "curse" to the Benton Harbor Palladium." The compositor who made the error will probably be out of a job.
